

The signal starts calm (Figure 1) and then spikes (Figure 2). Because the references are live, reordering the figures would renumber both the labels and the text that points at them.

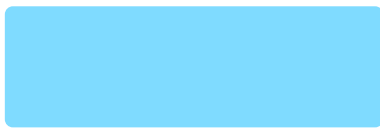

Figure 1: A steady, low-amplitude signal.

Figure 2: The same signal, spiking sharply in the middle.

Together, Figure 1 and Figure 2 make the contrast obvious.